

Akhila Karnataka Prani Daya Sangha®

Recognised by Animal Welfare Board of India (Govt of India)

Enable and Experience Compassion for a Better Planet

Do you want to enable the profound power of love and compassion amongst students and yourselves ?

Do you want your students to calm down and enjoy an inner peace?

Meet our lovely animals at AKPDS (Koramangala) along with their caretakers. This would also help to build a better race of humans that cares for one another and works for an eco-friendly coexistence, which is much needed on this planet !

Akhila Karnataka Prani Daya Sangha (AKPDS) is a visual delight and serves as a Heritage Spot in the urban scenario of Bengaluru. We render services to animals in various forms beginning with shelter, nursing and care. This is a place for Peace and Harmony for many people, and for thousands of animals and birds. This eco-friendly shelter home generates tons of oxygen for the environment.

Akhila Karnataka Prani Daya Sangha®

Enable and Experience Compassion for a Better Planet

AKPDS is the only Gaushala in Karnataka which has underground electrical lines and drainage system to make the Gaushala environs more hygienic, clean, and safe for animals to move around freely. We have CCTV monitoring system for the security of animals and visitors. We also have a rain water harvesting system.

The Gaushala is a beauty in its own way - a serene, calm and pleasant space which houses hundreds of trees beneficial to mankind such as Banyan, Neem, Peepal, Mango, Banana, Papaya, Jack fruit, coconut and many others. All by-products from these trees are offered to Animals and Birds. We have also grown different types of Herbal medicinal plants which serve both Humans and Animals. Animal waste is also used for agricultural and medicinal purposes.

Every day hundreds of people from different places visit the Gaushala and many schools conduct educational trips for their students to AKPDS shelter. This also helps in building positive emotions needed for wellness. Christ University and many other premier educational institutions send requests for Student Internship as part of their curriculum.

Members of our Association have been honoured by His Excellency the Governor of Karnataka, with a Gold medal from Smt Maneka Gandhi, and many other honours have been bestowed for services rendered towards Animal welfare.

We are certain that an exposure to AKPDS will help in fostering responsibility, empathy, humanity and benevolence in our younger generation. We look forward to a synergistic association with your esteemed Centre of learning.

Please contact us for a quick visit to our Gaushala: AKPDS, let us enable an experience that rekindles love and compassion towards our planet and all our fellow beings.

AKPDS takes care of more than 950 Cows & Cattle, Camels and other animals. It also houses more than 10000 birds
